The McCALL BROS. have opened out a general blacksmithing shop on the west side of Church street, near River Street, where they are prepared to do all kinds of blacksmithing in first-class style and at moderate rates.

McBeath; Running hop step and jump, T. McFadden; Three-legged race, Geo. Nelson; and Alex. McBeath; Horse race, Robt. McBeath; Pony race, Geo. Nelson; Robt. McBeath.

LIST OF SPORTS.

The weather is still keeping dry, and rain at present is very much needed, as the grain in some parts shows, and yet notwithstanding the dryness of the season, there are some fields looking remarkably well—a ten-acre field of wheat belonging to Mr. McFadden, and also a field belonging to Mr. Plaxton, we noticed, were far advanced, and we hear that Messrs. T. Miller, McEwen, and others in the upper section have very good looking crops. We trust that we may get a good fall of rain ere long, so that the farmers may yet have the pleasure of reaping a good crop.

We understand that the steamer Colville being long overdue was supposed to be grounded on the shallows in Play Green Lake. The steamer Princess after discharging her cargo at Grand Rapids will proceed in the direction of Narway House in search of her.

Mr. McGillivray, of this town, left for the east by the last boat.

Look out for the auction sale to morrow afternoon.

PICNIC.

(Communicated)

The first two townships down the river kept Dominion Day—when they get it. On Thursday they were not very sure of getting it till about three o'clock; for, up to that hour, the thunder showers were keeping the holiday to themselves. This was rather a pity, as a long and varied programme of sports came into collision with supper, and such items as wrestling on horseback, bun struggle and race for boys, hurdle race and sack race were ditched. However we had instead, an impromptu dog fight, and a shining example of patience from the judges of the sports, who more than earned the thanks of contestants and spectators, for having strayed down from your city to enjoy themselves, they were most insistently put to work, yet stuck to their job like men until after the second heat of the tug of war, when they and the rope mysteriously disappeared. You will notice that in the list of winners below, the blank opposite the tug of war is not filled in. Your correspondent knows who won it, but he declines to commit himself.

The place selected for the picnic is a very pretty spot, the weather was delightful after the heat of the last few days, the grass had been newly mown, tents adorned the ground, hunting was flying from all the flag-staffs along the trail, and there were 150 people present on pleasure bent. This estimate includes only grown people and a few of the children who kept quiet enough to be counted—the rest of the youngsters, who were scattered through the bluffs, down round Mr. Brook's well, under the horses' heels, and in other convenient places, were variously estimated by well-informed persons at between 40 and 600.

The contest between married and single men in the sports resulted in favor of the latter by a large majority, to four, although they suffered under the disadvantage of being unable to discover their champions when entries were called for. However a search on the croquet ground or round the swings generally resulted in a find.

At nine o'clock about 90 of the crowd, which left the ground apparently exhausted at half past seven, turned up as fresh as the accession party, at Mr. J. L. Reid's. Here they danced till three o'clock with an interval for supper, which was provided by the married ladies, and was found one of the most interesting items of the day's programme.

CHIT-CHAT LOCALS.

Gathered by our Reporters.

Rain wanted.
Pretty hot—99 degrees in the shade last Sunday.

Hon. L. Clarke left for Winnipeg last week per steamer Marquis.

Mr. J. F. A. Stull, Principal of the Mission Public School, left by steamer last week on a six week's trip east.

J. M. Campbell has received a consignment of Oranges and Lemons this week, which he offers for sale.

C. Hamilton, builder, is putting up a neat one-and-a-half storey cottage on Second Street for Mr. T. O. Davis.

Teams are busily engaged hauling brick from Thompson's brickyard to the site of the new Courthouse, where the bricklaying has commenced.

Curriers don't forget the adjourned meeting to morrow evening in Mr. Brewster's office. Every member should be there.

His Lordship the Bishop of Saskatchewan has gone to Battleford to hold a Confirmation in the town, and to visit the Indian reserves in the neighborhood.

A. W. R. Markley will hold an auction sale of household effects, cattle, horses, sleighs, cutter, hackboard, harness, etc., on Thursday the 29th inst., at the residence of D. J. Campbell, east end.

The first day's shooting in the Saskatchewan Rifle Association Meeting took place yesterday. Some excellent scores were made, showing a great improvement over last year. Mr. T. E. Baker is to be congratulated on securing first place in both matches. Full particulars will be given in our next issue.

As may be seen by posters, H. J. Montgomery will hold a sale of valuable building lots, the property of Col. Sprat, to morrow afternoon at two o'clock. The Colonel has decided to dispose of this property in order not to retard the progress of the town, building lots in this locality being in demand at present.

From a private letter shown us, we notice with pleasure that our old acquaintance C. E. Thompson, brother of Mr. Chester Thompson, has succeeded in gaining the degree of M.D., Trinity College, since leaving here. Dr. Thompson is at present walking the hospitals in London, England.

Mr. A. S. Wigmore, of London, who had been visiting his brother, R. C. Wigmore, merchants of our town, left for home by the steamer Marquis Friday last. Before leaving, Mr. Wigmore expressed himself as being pleased with the appearance and solidity of our town, and felt quite certain of its future advancement and prospects.

Mr. J. D. Snell arrived back home from Ontario last week. He brought back with him twenty-seven thoroughbred cows and a thoroughbred Durham bull. The cattle are the property of Messrs. Snell and Geo. A. Miller. We wish these gentlemen all the good luck they deserve for their enterprise in bringing in a high grade of cattle.

The steamer North West arrived down from Edmonton on Sunday last on her way down to Grand Rapids. Amongst her passengers from Edmonton were the Messrs. George Gerardine and Antonette Roy and W. Edmunds, the former for St. Boniface and the latter for Scotland. From Battleford, Mrs. W. Lytle and family, of Prince Albert. The steamer had on board some $250,000 worth of furs belonging to the Hudson's Bay Company.

Hilairie Patenaude, a French half-breed, was brought up under the Vagrant Act, on the 16th before O. E. Hughes, Esq., and Capt. Craig, J. P. It appears that he had been very much the worse of liquor, created a disturbance in front of the convent, and insulted the Rev. Father Andre. The magistrate convicted and fined the prisoner $10 and costs, with the alternative of fourteen days with hard labor. Mr. MacIasie prosecuted.

At the Imperial Federation banquet, Lord Roseberry, who occupied the chair, referring to the support of Colonial interests, said that when the blue books were read respecting the Fisheries question it would be found that the Government had upheld Colonial interests with strength and dignity.

A telegram from Shelburne says that the collector of customs, under instructions from Ottawa, has imposed a fine of $400 each on the seized Portland schooners C. B. Harrington, City Point and Geo. W. Cushing. The fines have not yet been paid and the vessels are still in the possession of the customs authorities.

The Imperial Federation League held an important conference in London. Many Canadians and Australians addressed the meeting. Sir Alex. Galt urged the formation of a customs union among the Colonies. He said he did not see why, if Canada entered confederation for mutual defence, America should not do likewise, making English speaking nations one free and prosperous community.

The Canadian Journal of Commerce says: Our great Northwest is the finest tract of land open anywhere today to settlers from all over the world, it is not the only unsettled territory now available; there is room in it for millions and, given a good harvest or two there will be a market found there which will in time require half a dozen railways to carry its produce. We need have no fear of the climate, nor settlement really begins. Cultivation and the planting will soon put an end to the early frosts which so far have been the chief obstacles in the way of successful farming. It has been so in Ontario and Quebec, and in the Northwestern States, and must be so in our great Northwest.

The Fisheries dispute may not be settled this season, but undoubtedly the Canadian Government by showing a determination to insist on Canadian rights has brought a settlement within measurable distance; and before next season opens we fully expect to see the New England fishermen clamoring for the commission they rejected with scorn last winter. For, besides, the fish, it seems, have opportunely come to the aid of Canada. When the American fishermen denounced their administration for proposing the Fisheries commission they thought the privilege of free admission to Canadian waters within the three-mile limit was of no value to them; but during this season, the mackerel schools, in moving up the coast, have taken refuge on the shores of Nova Scotia within the three-mile limit—have placed themselves, in fact, under the protection of the treaty of 1818; and in consequence the whole mackerel catch of the New England fleet this season, to date, is about 5,000 barrels against 26,000 last year. Hence the approaching change of wind, and the Canadian Government has, we think, only to be firm in order to obtain the simple justice that these fishermen, and their accomplices in Congress have induced the American people to deny.—The Week.

THE P. A. C. BAND TRIP.

The P. A. C. Band left for Battleford on Monday the 5th inst., by steamer Marquis, and had a very enjoyable time. There were 14 members of the band with about 15 other excursionists on the boat, and arrived at their destination on Wednesday morning. When the playing of the band was heard on the land, a great number of the citizens turned out to welcome the party, and received them with cheers. In the afternoon the band turned out and treated the residents to some music for about an hour, after which the excursionists went around to see their friends. At 7 P.M. in the evening, the boys were invited to dinner, at which the principal people of the town were present, where, after the good things provided had been disposed of, speeches and songs were the order for a couple of enjoyable hours. About 9.30 the band played down to the boat, where they had invited the citizens to a social hop. At 10.30 the invitations were given on short notice, in less than half an hour the ladies of the town were on hand, and dancing had commenced, which was kept up till about two o'clock in the morning, when the after-bank-up with heavy cheers for the ladies, the band, the citizens and the police. It is needless to say the excursionists immediately retired to rest weary but well satisfied with their day's enjoyment at Battleford. They one and all have a good word to say for the residents of that town, especially for the ladies, who helped so much to make the evening's pleasant one. The party left for the hotel for home Thursday morning, calling at Carlton on the way down and reaching Prince Albert early Friday morning, well pleased with the entire trip. The whole party are unanimous in their praise of Capt. Douglas and the other officials of the band for the uniform kindness and attention shown them.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.

A public examination and distribution of prizes took place at St. Ann's Convent Seminary for young ladies, on the 15th inst. The occasion was one to be remembered in the annals of our town, and had been looked forward to by the pupils for weeks past with the greatest interest. There was a large attendance of parents and friends, amongst whom we observed Hon. L. and Mrs. Clarke, Col. and Mrs. Sproul, Mr. and Mrs. Way, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Macdonald, Mrs. Northgraves, Mrs. Finlayson, Mrs. A. Stewart, Mrs. Dwyer, Insp. Cuthbert, Messrs. D. J. Waggoner, J. Stewart, J. Coombs and H. T. McPhillips. The Hon. Lawrence Clarke presided with his usual ability and affability. There was but one opinion amongst the visitors as to the high standard of education, efficient, and the extremely careful and efficient training provided by the Reverend lady teachers, and all who were present expressed the utmost gratification at the day's proceedings. The pupils took advantage of the occasion to present the Hon. L. Clarke with an address, which will be found below along with Mr. Clarke's reply. We regret it is impossible for us to reproduce the address in fac-simile. It was beautifully engrossed, and exquisitely illuminated by the ladies of the Convent, and is a work of art which we believe not one in a thousand of the inhabitants of the Dominion would ever expect to have been produced in our remote settlement.

After the distribution of prizes, a list of which is also appended, Col. Sproul in a few appropriate sentences, proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Clarke for presiding, and the proceedings terminated by pupils and audience joining in the Queen's anthem.

ADDRESS TO HON. L. CLARKE.

To the Hon. L. Clarke,
 Sir,—Among the many kind friends here assembled, we feel that you are the most deeply interested in this establishment.

We are happy in seeing you, Honorable Sir, replace His Lordship Mennig, our Granlin on this occasion in presiding at our distribution of Prizes, and we thank you for the honor of receiving from your hands the reward which has been the object of our competition. During this scholastic year, we have endeavored to obtain the highest marks for our studies and if we have succeeded, it is mainly owing to the stimulus given by your thoughtful and valuable gifts for which we again offer you our sincere thanks. We trust that you will see by our improvement that we have endeavored to profit of the assistance and encouragement we have received, and that we fully appreciate the advantages we enjoy.

Among the many favors of Divine Providence during this year, we count your restoration to health, and while thanking Almighty God for His goodness, we pray that this the greatest of earthly blessings may be preserved to you, and that we may long enjoy the kind interest you always take in us.

THE PUPILS OF ST. ANN'S CONVENT,
 Prince Albert, July 16, 1886.

REPLY.
 Reverend Mother Superior, Reverend Mothers, and Young Lady Students of the Convent of St. Ann's.

Before proceeding with my address, I must express my very great sorrow that important duties elsewhere have prevented the Lord Bishop of St. Albert from honoring the school with his presence here to-day. It must be a grave disappointment to you Reverend Mothers, that His Lordship is not present to preside on this happy occasion, and I feel very sure that it is also a matter of much regret to the Bishop to be deprived of the happiness of witnessing the success of his handiwork, for after all it is owing to the unwearying efforts, unremitting exertions and commanding influence of the Bishop that we have to-day in our midst this superior educational institution. We parents must not forget that we owe to His Lordship deep gratitude for the advantages our girls enjoy as students under the accomplished staff of lady teachers governing the school.

In addressing you this morning, I fully appreciate the honor you have conferred on me in inviting me to preside at this the first public examination of your School at Prince Albert, I most heartily congratulate you, Reverend Mothers, on the astonishing progress and the amazing prosperity that has attended your School from its inception.

The goodly number of visitors present must be very cheering to you, showing as it does, the interest they take in your work, and by their presence acknowledge the importance of the discipline and training their children are receiving at your hands. The large increase, compared with last year, in the number of your pupils, shows the importance attached by parents to the educational advantages to be found in your School, proved beyond a doubt by the extension in the studies of the pupils, more especially in this very gratifying in the advanced classes. The examination has been exceedingly satisfactory and evinces thorough care in teaching, and is very creditable to the application of the students.

Young Lady prize winners, I congratulate you on the tangible evidence in your ability and industry. The excitement of the struggle for honors is now over, and the tax upon your energies is for a time ended. In the struggle you have no doubt learned many weighty lessons, you have learned that competition rightly directed furnishes healthy motive power to carry you forward in your studies. No doubt you have at times become distracted at the drudgery imposed upon you in learning disagreeable tasks, but you must bear in mind that all work is drudgery, and no worthy work is ever attained by one who chooses and refuses in accordance with his or her inclinations. No one is good for anything who does not know how to drudge, and education is poor and abortive unless it tends by unremitting effort to strengthen the weak parts of the mind as well as develop the strong. You have learned the habit of prompt unquestioning obedience to whatever appeals to you as your duty, the best, if not the very best, condition for learning more, and higher truths. There is nothing that can give so sweet a feeling of content as duties well performed, all the best pleasures of life come in the work of duties done. Education is the prime factor in bringing home to each heart a better understanding of these duties, it is humanizing, an equalizing and an illuminating virtue; it constitutes a higher degree of self respect, it results in the modifying of our austere tempers, and tends to our entertaining more vast and comprehensive considerations for the rights of others. You have learned also, I trust, self-discipline—the art of willingly and patiently to take pains to subjugate the weakness of our common humanity to higher and purer standards of life, the endeavor to educate your principles and your heart sincerely to do faithfully and loyally whatever thing is laid to your charge. If you do this, you will exercise a deep influence for good on those with whom you are brought into contact, as well by your words as your example. Apart from the more serious studies, I am glad to observe the advance you have made in what are commonly called accomplishments. These lighter graces will give refinement to your lives, will be the means of educating your taste and round off the glory and perfection of your future existence. It is no small matter to be equal and capable of sustaining your proper share in the refined enjoyments of social life and to appreciate them properly, and to enjoy them rationally.

Young ladies, you have my best wishes that your future studies will end in like happy results as to-day. You may rest assured that the armor of education is the best panoply you can carry in the battle of life, and most unwise is the one who fails to arm for the conflict. It will give you individual strength and pleasure. The training you are receiving will plant in your hearts the germs of order, patience, courage and good habits that will bear for you and yours gaily fruit in the hereafter.

To you, Young Ladies who have not been so fortunate as the prize winners, I say, never be discouraged, because good things come to you slowly, the sun bursts through the clouds in unlooked for directions. Besides the ability to learn, you must have industry and determination to execute your purposes with persistence. A scholar may be clever by fits and starts, the capacity to receive is of little value unless it is coupled with an ability to adapt, it is only by patient courage in overcoming difficulties, that you will ever gain distinction in your studies. Every moment you now lose is so much character and advantage lost, as on the other hand every moment you now employ usefully is so much time laid out on compound interest.

I congratulate you, Reverend Mothers, on the splendid system of education you have introduced in your establishment. Your Young Ladies' School is a credit to the town and country, and if I may be allowed to use the expression—from its cosmopolitan character—it materially strengthens the bond of union between the different nationalities, it accomplishes this because your scholars represent dissimilar races and religions, yet all receive from the highly cultured lady teachers of the school, that respect and reverence for conscientious scruples, which has made it possible for each scholar to kneel down and worship one common Father in the manner taught them in their own homes. To my mind there is nothing so important as the education of the future mothers of our race. If the child is father to the man, doubly so is the daughter the mother of the woman. The first impressions of childhood are from the mother, the training of her young womanhood is the home influence, she only leaves the old homestead to become the mother of a family, and the future character of the girl as daughter, wife and mother, is moulded for good or evil by the example and precept of her who was and is, and ever must be, so long as both shall live, her guide, and confident and friend.

Before closing I would like to express the pleasure, and to be sure I express the wishes of our visitors, to have witnessed the little play performed before us by the students of the school, each of the young lady performers is to be congratulated in the way she has portrayed the character allotted to her. I am glad the Reverend Mothers have given us this enjoyment, for I am one who thinks that all work and no play is a hard taskmaster. To amuse innocently is in accord with human nature, we must be ever ready to work when called upon. Whosoever can work with the best heart and soul and industry, can as such, play with the most pleasure, the consciousness of duty neglected will cast a veil over the brightest enjoyment.

I again congratulate you, Reverend Mothers, on the honors achieved by the young ladies you have educated. I also respectfully thank you for the great treat you have afforded us on this occasion, and trust that the good beginning your institution has undoubtedly made, will go on and prosper.

To you Young Ladies, I express a hope that your present excellence will be an incentive to increased efforts, building up the foundation of your future life which under God's Providence should be happy and successful.

Out of sixty two London seats only eleven have been secured by Gladstonians.

The totals at midnight were, Conservatives and Unionists 267, Gladstonians 193. Conservatives in order to obtain a working majority independent of the Liberals and Unionists, must carry 82 of the remaining 173 seats, and it is considered improbable that they will succeed in doing so. Gladstonians rely upon a collapse of Conservative Unionist coalition when Lord Salisbury takes office, and they are certain that the Conservatives cannot dominate the House of Commons unless the Unionists co-operate with them.

It is reported in Government circles that Gladstone is unwell, and is determined to wage ceaseless battle in Parliament. Political leaders of every party anticipate a series of unprecedented parliamentary conflicts.

Tories should now carry forty of these seats if their success continues unabated. Liberal Unionists 27, leaving to Gladstone 37. Yesterday and today he has been receiving visitors, and to night he will receive the Corporation address.
